

Deep Dive Expert Interview Plan 2016

Alexander Russo	Conor Williams	Robert Engelman	Jessica Hanchey	Michael Kramer
EDUC	EDUC	SS/Policy	Corporate	INVEST
Alexander Russo is a writer, blogger and author who has been published and/or quoted in Slate, Washington Post, Huffington Post, New York Times, and USA Today. His website, "This Week in Education," is one of the nation's longest-running education blogs.	Conor P. Williams is the founding director of the Dual Language Learners National Work Group at New America. He is also a senior researcher in New America's Education Policy program. His work addresses policies and practices related to educational equity, dual language learners, immigration, and school choice. His work has appeared in The Washington Post, The New Republic, The Daily Beast, The Atlantic, U.S. News and World Report, Talking Points Memo, The New York Daily News, The 74 Million, and elsewhere.	Robert Engelman is a Senior Fellow at the Worldwatch Institute, a globally focused environmental research organization based in Washington, D.C. Bob originally joined Worldwatch as Vice President for Programs and was named President in 2011. Prior to joining Worldwatch, he was Vice President for Research at Population Action International, a policy research and advocacy group in Washington, and directed its program on population and the environment. He has written extensively on population's connections to environmental change, economic growth, and civil conflict.	Executive Recruiter, Environmental Services the Newport Group: Connecting experienced environmental professionals with mid-to-senior level through C-suite executive opportunities in California. Available to assist companies with finding experienced environmental professionals who have a professional license (PE, PG, AICP, CIH, CSP, etc.) and proven success managing people and conducting business development. Constantly networking with individuals who have experience doing CEQA & NEPA permitting and documentation, environmental impact reports, environmental analysis, and other environmental compliance projects.	Managing Partner of Natural Investments, a registered investment advisor with 30 years of expertise in sustainable and responsible investing. Kramer has been an NI financial advisor since 2000 and a partner in the firm since 2007
Tuesday 3/8; 4-5 pm	Wed Mar 9; 10-11 AM	Thursday March 10; 3pm	Fri March 11; 1-2	Mon March 14; 2-3 PM

Deep Dive Expert Interview Plan 2016

Ana Baptista	Mark Orlowski	Judy Braus	Jerry Tinianow	Timothy Nixon
Urban Planning/Public Policy	Investment Community	Education	Gov't	Sustainability Science
Ana is an Assistant Professor of Professional Practice in Environmental Policy and Sustainability Management. She was most recently the Director of the Energy and Environment Program at the Regional Plan Association where she oversaw a diverse portfolio of issues ranging from climate change to greenspace preservation across the New York metropolitan region.	Mark heads the Institute's research efforts on college sustainability initiatives including creation of the College Sustainability Report Card. Mark also serves as the lead developer and coordinator of the Billion Dollar Green Challenge, an initiative that is encouraging colleges and other nonprofit institutions to invest a combined total of $1 billion into energy efficiency upgrades.	Judy Braus has been actively involved in national and international environment and education efforts for almost three decades. She is currently the Executive Director of the North American Association for Environmental Education (NAAEE), a non-profit organization dedicated to accelerating environmental literacy and civic stewardship through the power of environmental education	Jerry directs the work of the Office of Sustainability in helping City agencies plan, finance and implement the initiatives that will allow the City to achieve its 2020 Sustainability Goals. He works with agencies throughout the city government as well as with numerous outside stakeholders to take full advantage of the creativity and commitment of all partners in the City's sustainability work. Jerry also serves as the principal spokesperson for the Office of Sustainability and does numerous presentations each year about Denver's sustainability efforts for groups both inside and outside of Denver.	Tim Nixon is a founder and the Managing Editor of the sustainability platform at Thomson Reuters. He has ongoing engagement with leaders across a wide spectrum of NGO and private-sector partners. He has spoken at global policy-making events, including for example the World Bank Land & Poverty Conference, UN PRI Annual Meeting and the first global meeting of UNEA (United Nations Environment Assembly). He is also the author of numerous pieces and reports on Thomson Reuters channels, Economist Insights, United Nations Environment Program and other global sustainability platforms
Wed March 16; 1-2 pm	Mon March 21; 1-2 pm	Mon March 21; 3-4 pm	Tues March 22; 11-12	Tues., March 22; 12-1 pm

Deep Dive Expert Interview Plan 2016

Daniel Mosse	Mark Alter	Craig Dalen	Alan Weisman	Danny Richter
Education	Education	NGOs/Foundations/Philanthropy	AUTHOR	NGOs/Foundations/Philanthropy
Professor of Computer Science, U Pitt. Currently working with the School of Education at Pitt to design a MS in CS Education, or to modify their MEd program. He contributed to the design of the MS in Sustainability that is currently under approval process at Pitt.	Mark Alter, PhD Professor of Educational Psychology Programs in Special Education Unity Alum	Craig comes to the Fellowship to support the B Corps on Campus initiative with extensive background in academia and partnership building. His work over the past 5 years at Messiah College has focused on bringing various stakeholders across the college – from professors to the operations teams to students and administration – together to create a holistic and comprehensive sustainability office and program.	Alan Weisman has worked on seven continents and in more than 50 countries. He is the author of six books; his most recent, Countdown: Our Last, Best Hope for a Future on Earth? It's now in 13 foreign language editions. In The World Without Us, Alan Weisman offers an utterly original approach to questions of humanity's impact on the planet: he asks us to envision our Earth, without us.	Dr. Danny Richter's primary responsibilities include serving as a "lobby coach" for new groups or groups with tricky meetings, discovering arguments against our policy and developing counter-arguments, interpreting new science and reaching out to other organizations both at home and abroad to inform them about what CCE and CCL are doing. Danny has a PhD in Oceanography from the Scripps Institution of Oceanography at UCSD. Before that Danny received his BS in Environmental Geoscience from the University of Notre Dame, and his MS in Earth Science from UC San Diego.
Tues., March 22; 1-2 pm	Wed March 23; 10-11	Wed March 23; 2-3	Wed, March 23; 4-5 pm	Thurs March 24; 1-2

Deep Dive Expert Interview Plan 2016

Michael Mann	Morgan Wittmer	Melissa Bilec	Linda Silka	Robert Forbis
Sustainability Science	NGOs/Foundations/ Philanthropy	Sustainability Science	Education	Gov't/Policy
Distinguished Professor Director, Earth System Science Center (ESSC) The Pennsylvania State University <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Climatologist, geophysicist, Director Earth System Science Center, Penn State • Pioneered ways to find climate change patterns in 1000-year temperature record • Famous “hockey stick graph” contributor to the 3rd UN IPCC Report, 2001 • One of 50 Leading Visionaries in Science & Technology, Scientific American, 2002 • Fellow of the American Geophysical Union • Fellow of the American Meteorological Society • Author of 160 peer-reviewed publications & 2 books, “Dire Predictions: Understanding Global Warming,” & “The Hockey Stick and the Climate Wars” • Contributor to RealClimate blog 	Vessel Staff Manager, Pacific Whale Foundation Morgan M. Smith Boulder, CO Education: Bachelors in Biology University of Colorado, Masters in Marine Biology Florida Atlantic University, Certified Interpretive Guide through NAI Experience: Field work on bugs and birds in Colorado and Costa Rica, Field Technician for the Hawksbill Turtle Monitoring Program, Volcanoes National Park, Science Teacher in the Florida Keys, Teaching Assistant Florida Atlantic University, Turtle Tech, Gumbo Limbo Nature Center, FL, Primate Zoo Keeper at the palm Beach Zoo, FL	From a broad perspective, Dr. Bilec's research and teaching interests encompass engineering issues related to sustainability, green design, and construction. Her recent research efforts include not only creating a practical framework for hybrid life cycle assessment modeling, including uncertainty and visualizations, but also modeling on-site construction processes and support services. She is conducting research related to green building metrics to understand and evaluate high-performance buildings. Dr. Bilec has experience in funding and managing sustainable transportation projects, including the Hot Metal Pedestrian Bridge project.	Senior Fellow, Senator George J. Mitchell Center for Sustainability Solutions University of Maine Dr. Linda Silka is a social and community psychologist by training, with much of her work focusing on building community-university research partnerships. She has several decades of experience in leading community-university research partnerships on environmental, economic development, and environmental health issues. Dr. Silka was the former Director of the University of Maine’s Margaret Chase Smith Policy Center and is now Senior Fellow at the University of Maine’s George Mitchell Center for Sustainability Solutions	Assistant Professor of Political Science at Texas Tech University. He received his B.A. from the University of Texas at Austin (1990); and received his Masters of Public Administration (2004) and Ph.D. in Political Science from the University of Utah (2010). His research interests primarily concern Environmental Politics and Policy with emphasis on the policy nexus of environmental policy and energy development. His research specifically addresses political conflicts triggered by the hydraulic fracturing (fracking) energy resource development process. He teaches courses on Public Lands and Resource Management, Sustainability, Energy and Environmental Policy.
Thursday, March 24; 2:30-3:30 pm	Thursday, March 24, 4-5 pm	Fri March 25; 12-1	Monday, March 28; 12-1 pm	Monday, March 28; 2-3 pm

Deep Dive Expert Interview Plan 2016

Mark Campanale	Devon Leahy	Donald Brown
INVEST	CORPORATE	Sustainability
Founder of the Carbon Tracker Initiative and conceived the 'unburnable carbon' capital markets thesis. He commissioned and was editor of Unburnable Carbon, are markets carrying a carbon bubble? Report.	Director of Sustainability at Etsy. I look after our environmental and social impact as a company; think solar panels for our data centers, local environmentally friendly materials for our offices and tools and resources for sellers who want to advance sustainable practices in their shops.	Scholar in Residence and Professor, Sustainability Ethics and Law, Widener University Commonwealth Law School, Harrisburg, Pa. Donald Brown joined the faculty as Scholar in Residence for Sustainability Ethics and Law through Widener's Environmental Law and Sustainability Center. Professor Brown comes to Widener Law from Penn State University where he taught interdisciplinary courses on climate change and sustainable development. He also directed the Pennsylvania Environmental Research Consortium, an organization of 56 Pennsylvania universities and the Pennsylvania Departments of Environmental Protection and Conservation and Natural Resources. He previously worked as program manager for United Nations Organizations at the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's Office of International Environmental Policy. He represented the agency on U.S. delegations to the United Nations negotiating climate change, biodiversity and sustainable development issues. At Widener Law, he researches and presents public presentations on climate change, ethics and sustainability.
Wed March 30; 12-1 pm	Fri March 25: 2-3 PM	Wed, March 30; 3-4 pm